An agent of the Union Pacific Railroad Company is traveling along the Central Pacific trying to get sheep men to ship their wool East by his line instead of by the Southern Pacific. He says Union Pacific men will buy Nevada wool rather than have it taken East by the Southern route.

Indians are holding a big fandango near Wells, and give the town a very lively appearance. They are mostly Shoshones and Snakes, although representatives from nearly every tribe from Colorado to Oregon are present. Pototello Jake, of the Bannocks, lost forty horses on a horse race there last Saturday.

King Humbert of Italy is now anxious to go to war because the American cartoonists are roasting him. He calls on Blaine and Harrison for protection.

It might appear the old fellow's wrath to send him over a few thousand pictures of Blaine and Harrison printed while they were running for office.

The Silver State records a rich mining discovery by W. J. Bell and Joe Butch near Spring City, two samples assayed respectively $1,209 13 and $484 99 in gold and silver. Is it Constitutional?

Since Lander county has won the suit against the C. P. R. Co. rumor has it that the Assessor has been instructed to assess the Railroad Co. at the rate of $58,000 per mile on the road running through Lander county. This, we understand, is for the purpose of testing the constitutionality of the law creating the State Board of Equalization and Assessors, but more for the purpose of placing a little revenue in the hands of a certain pair of lawyers of that county who are continually bleeding the county and the C. P. Railroad Co. It is a question whether the law is constitutional or not, and very many of the best lawyers of the State say it won't hold and advise the Assessors of the different counties to assess the road as heretofore, and in case the law is declared void the R. R. Co. will be properly assessed and will have their taxes to pay, whereas, on the other hand, if the Assessors did not assess the railroad property and left it entirely with the State Board, and the law creating the State Board of Assessors was declared void, then the Railroad Company would receive that much benefit, as there would be no law compelling them to pay taxes on property not properly assessed.—Silver State.

No Incubator Now.

The APPEAL is in receipt of a letter asking if the editor has a second-hand incubator for sale.

We once owned an incubator and tried to raise some chickens in it. It seemed an easy thing to run it when we started in. The wife of the editor said she would attend to it, and all we had to do would be to eat the chickens when they were six months old.

Every night about 12, this scribe would receive a suggestion to get up and examine the temperature, also at 2 and 4 o'clock. About one week of this sort of business caused a revolution of sentiment and one morning when the household rose it found a Petaluma incubator lying in the center of the kitchen, in the form of kindling wood for the morning fire.

A hatchet was lying along side of it and the people of the house charge us with it to this day.

The next incubator brought near where we sleep, won't last so long.

A Treat For All.

Dr. Selah W. Brown, the noted Chataqua Lecturer, has been secured by the Carson High School Debating Society, to deliver a series of his interesting lectures at Odd Fellows' Hall, April 22, 23, 24 and 25.

As he has been several times around the world, his original and instructive lectures will be of much interest to all.

All school students are entitled to the course of four lectures for half price, 50 cents, course tickets, adults, $1.00. Admission 35 cents, children 20 cents. Tickets may be secured from any member of the Debating Society.

Challenge to Barbers.

Joe Galliano does not believe the report of the barber's shaving contest in San Francisco.

He thinks the time made by the winner, 31 1/2 seconds, is a fake and unworthy of public credence. In order to show what he thinks of these reports he desires the APPEAL to state that he will meet the winner for $200 a side or he will bet the winner $200 that he cannot shave him in less than two minutes without shedding blood. He has made a deposit of $20 with the APPEAL and would like to hear from San Francisco.

Oliver's Joke.

A seedy looking man called at the Arlington yesterday and started to register.

Oliver Roberts not thinking him a desirable guest stepped up very politely and said:

"All full here now, sorry I can't accommodate you."

"What is the matter?"

"Big rush to the convention of Episcopal preachers and I have to pack four in a room."

Four members of the family of Adam H. Sconce, living about fifteen miles from Salem Or., were buried side by side Sunday, all having died of lagrippe. A young daughter died at 12 o'clock Friday night; at 1:20 her mother followed. The next night at exactly 12 o'clock the father died and at precisely 1:20 o'clock his mother passed away.

Funeral of Geo. Chedic.

Business was generally suspended yesterday throughout the city out of respect to the memory of George Chedic.

Delegations of Red Men and Odd Fellows came from Virginia City and Gold Hill to take part in the funeral.

The services were conducted in Odd Fellows' Hall, where Chaplain Davis, on behalf of the Lodge, delivered an address, and a choir of male voices sang the Funeral Hymn.

The remains were then taken in charge by the Red Men, who conducted the burial service at the grave.

The coffin was profusely decorated, and the twelve pall bearers were delegated from the Red Men, Odd Fellows and Firemen.

A long line of carriages followed the remains to the cemetery.

The New York Tribune is publishing in its weekly edition a series of letters on Nevada which puts the State in a fair light before the eastern public. It is the only paper that has shown any disposition to be friendly or fair to this State. It would be a graceful thing for one or two hundred people to subscribe for the Weekly Tribune. It cost but a dollar a year, and is one of the best papers for family or general reading in the country. Any subscriptions sent to Cagwin and Noteware will be attended to.
